Tammy Robinson

tammyprodev@gmail.com | linkedin.com/in/tammyprodev/

Education

Masters, Information Technology & Management
Illinois Institute of Technology | May 2017

Specialty focus in Web Design & Application Development
4.0

Participated in several student organizations including the National Society of Black Engineers and Black Student Union – as well as, provided paraprofessional advising and student advocacy as a campus Resident Advisor and Conference Assistant.

Bachelors of Science, Information Science & Technology
University of Wisconsin - Milwaukee | May 2014

Specialty focus in Frontend Web Development
3.93, Cum Laude

Community Involvement

Charlotte Devs, Organizer
May 2017 - Present

Our mission is to grow Charlotte's tech community by facilitating and providing safe spaces for developers of all skill levels and interests.

Learn More About Us:

https://charlottedevs.com/
https://www.meetup.com/charlottedevs/

Queen City Bytes, Organizer
September 2019 - Present

Queen City Bytes (QCB) is an organization dedicated to supporting underserved or marginalized communities and groups by offering technical instruction, educational resources, and an environment where networking and mentorship are valued.

Learn More About Us:

https://www.meetup.com/QC-Bytes/

Experience

Atypic Craft - Digital Marketing & Brand Development Agency
Charlotte, NC – August 2017 to Present

Sr Frontend Developer: Developed custom consumer-facing websites for brands on both a regional and national level using HTML, SCSS, jQuery, and Laravel, guided a team of 2 - 4 developers on internally established best practices and coding standards, conducted 1-on-1 code review sessions, identified areas where internal processes could be improved to progress in daily operations and increase company profitability.

BreakingVoices
Chicago, IL – January 2016 to May 2016

Web Developer: Established a proper workflow with use of modern software development tools; consistent with conventional Agile development methodologies, redesigned, developed and implemented new features for existing BreakingVoices products to improve usability, extended service of skills to building new product features for various development case studies within the 1871 startup community.

OhmzTech
Milwaukee, WI – August 2014 to November 2014

Frontend Web Developer: Developed highly interactive and modern application designs using Sencha, created detailed client documentation for reference after project completion, administered quality management of various web and mobile applications.

Skills

HTML, CSS3, SASS, JavaScript, jQuery, Vue.js, Laravel, PHP, Git, WordPress, LAMP, G Suite, Adobe Creative Cloud, Sketch, Figma, Microsoft Office, database management, content management, user experience, learning, coaching, event hosting, information organization, public speaking, time management, design system curation

Currently working to level up on: Python, Vue.js, React, Laravel, Test Driven Development (TDD), backend development, public speaking, writing

Interests

Hiking, reading, travel, personal finance, digital minimalism, mindfulness and meditation, aquariums, museums, sports (football, basketball, sometimes baseball)

References available upon request